* You have been invited for dinner to celebrate the upcoming marriage of THE BRIDE. A three-course meal will be provided. The stripper will not. At 7pm, while guests are enjoying cocktails, CAMEL, Hot Stuff's always popular and most talented erotic dancer was shot twice in the chest and has been pronounced dead. At the time of his death he was fully clothed. The purpose of this dinner is no longer a gathering to celebrate marriage and the male form, but an investigation to determine which one of YOU is the murderer. Investigations and events will be led by Maxamillion Girth, owner and founder of Hot Stuff: Stripping and Catering®. Your waiter is below the legal age so must not be touched inappropriately. Throughout the night you should engage with other guests/suspects to find out who they are, and determine if they could be capable of this heinous crime. There is a MURDERER among you and this killer knows who they are... The party must make it their duty to discover the truth. We must know: Who? How? Why? Hot Stuff: Stripping and Catering® will offer a bottle of they're finest spirit or a simple kiss to the one who helps bring this criminal to justice. They will also answer any culinary questions you might have.
